

NEWS FOCUS

A ROUND-UP OF WEEKLY NATIONAL NEWS

Schools 'to drop gathering nationality data'

Privacy campaigners say the Department for Education is to drop the controversial requirement for schools in England to collect data about pupils' nationality.

READ THE FULL ARTICLE HERE

<http://www.bbc.co.uk/news/education-43698074>

Children's centre closures may be as high as 1,000, says study

As many as 1,000 Sure Start children's centres in England may have closed since August 2009, research for the Sutton Trust suggests.

READ THE FULL ARTICLE HERE

<http://www.bbc.co.uk/news/education-43629395>

YouTube 'broke child protection laws'

YouTube has been accused of violating child protection laws in the US, by a collection of 23 consumer, child safety and privacy advocacy groups.

READ THE FULL ARTICLE HERE

<http://www.bbc.co.uk/news/technology-43699233>

Student loan repayment threshold rises

Former students will be able to earn more before they have to start paying back their tuition fee loans.

READ THE FULL ARTICLE HERE

<http://www.bbc.co.uk/news/education-43629399>